

INVOCATION

for male youth choir

and organ

Regarding Performance

All pitches in INVOCATION are written as they should actually sound. The only exception concerns the pedal of the organ, whose notes should be played sounding an octave lower than written if the instrument offers those pitches.

INVOCATION features a setting of the sacred anthem, Salve Regina, in Latin, and should only be performed in cathedral or church (or other site which ensures solemn treatment of the work by both performers and audience).

INVOCATION requires the following performers for presentation:

Boys' choir

- Soprani I and II
- Contralti I and II
